Looking for the ultimate in protection?

If your televisions or monitors are located in areas where the potential for damage is higher than your average living room (sporting venues, high traffic areas, hospitals, school gymnasiums etc.), you will want to add TV Armor's Enclosure. Likewise for television or monitors located in areas where theft could be a problem (bars, colleges, entertainment complexes, etc.). Our enclosures are designed to be mounted around a previously mounted TV. They are designed to prevent access and damage to the TV in an indoor or covered outdoor environment.

We have it!

Providing the ultimate in protection for a small cost, the Patent Pending TV Armor Enclosure is an attractive design which gives you peace of mind in knowing that your expensive investment is safe.

Key highlights of the TV Armor Enclosure...

- All our enclosures are made custom to your TV size, no more small TVs in a big box.
- Constructed with a black anodized aluminum extrusion frame and black matte acrylic panels.
- All edges and corners are rounded, a crucial safety feature.
- Available options include Anti-Glare front panels and/or polycarbonate panels (Lexan).

Simple wall mount technology

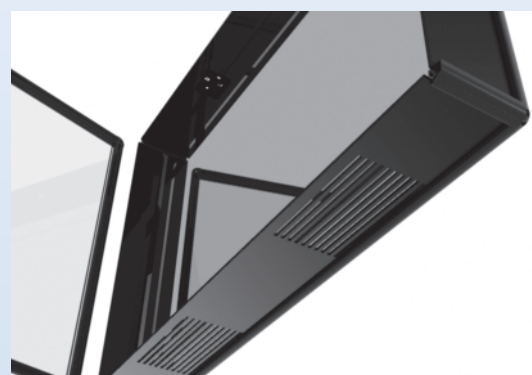

Our simple wall mount technology discourages theft (screws can be tamper proof upon request), and completely encloses the television or monitor... the design is an open backed box with internal mounting brackets. The acrylic front panel is optically clear, and is 15 times stronger than glass.

Customizable to your needs

The TV Armor Enclosure includes air vents and fans to keep your television cool (with a quiet whisper). And if your television or monitor requires additional sound, we offer high quality sound option upgrades as well. However the enclosure actually enhances the TV's sound. Other available options for a nominal cost include Lexan and Anti Glare acrylic, as well as holes for power cables and HDMI cables. TV Armor Screen Enclosure is lighter than glass and scratch resistant. TV Armor Enclosures sell for at least 40% less than other brands.
